

Biz

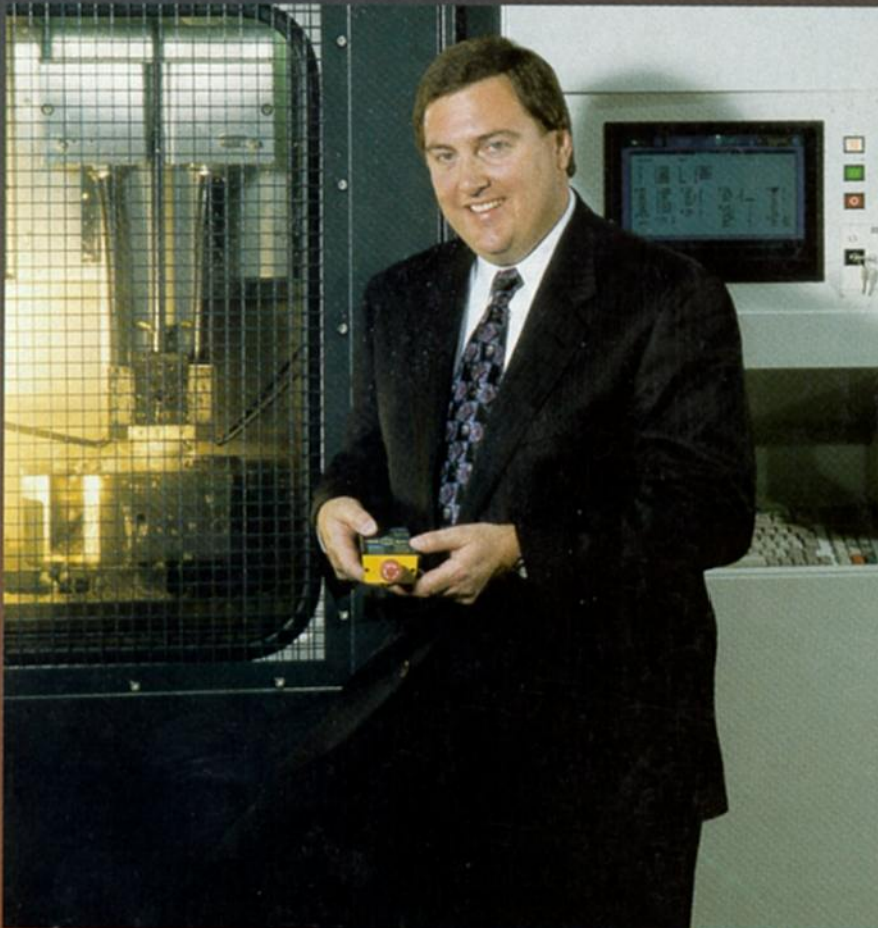

Summer 1999
$2.00

Burlington—a city that won't let itself be outdone

A special 40-page report on an emerging corporate centre that meets every criteria for success. There's no better place to do business.

Technology:

There's no holding back as the Information Age propels Hamilton/Halton manufacturers into a competitive new mode. Are we ready to take on the world?

Way out in front:
Ken Carpenter, president of Burlington Technologies

Players

Seamless Flow

An extraordinary team effort

PHOTOGRAPHY BY ROY TIMM

The creation of a custom-built home begins with a skilled architect like Frank Bandiera, who works closely with... (over)

Steven Stipsits, president of Branthaven Homes, a builder with impeccable credentials. He gives form to Bandiera's design, then entrusts the interior to...

Morley Barnard and Jan Speziale of Barnard & Speziale Design, who endow the structure with beauty and distinction.